Vendor Agreement – SOMA Camp This document summarizes the agreement between SOMA and vendors who sell their wares at SOMA Camp. There are four different commercial relationships between a vendor and SOMA. Please complete the section that applies to you – Please print using upper case except for signatures. Note that all sales at SOMA facilities are between you and your customer, and you must make clear to your customer that there is no SOMA endorsement of your wares. All vendors agree to indemnify SOMA against any problem with products sold. All vendors, except SOMA bookstore commission sales, are responsible for supervising their tables and selling their products, must keep written receipt books with daily tallies, and make payment at the end of each day to the person in charge of the SOMA bookstore.

Outside Vendor

You are paying SOMA to rent table space at SOMA Camp to sell anything mushroom related. You agree to pay 10% of gross sales to SOMA plus a table rental of $25 per table per day. Please bring your own food.

Bookstore commission sales.

Your wares are sold on your behalf by the SOMA bookstore. SOMA commission for this is 40% of the selling price. You mark each item with your identity and the final price (this means that you multiply the price you wish to receive by 1.82 - this includes SOMA's commission plus sales tax at the Santa Rosa, California sales tax rate). Please round the final price to the nearest $0.25 to simplify our cash handling. SOMA is responsible for paying the sales tax. The SOMA bookstore must receive a list of the items (with an inventory count of each item) to be sold at least one month prior to camp, and the items must be delivered to the bookstore a minimum of one hour before camp registration opens to ensure that the delivered inventory matches the document; any mismatch will cause cancellation. SOMA will return all unsold goods at the end of camp on Monday, and will pay you within one month of the end of camp.
